Firstly, allow me to introduce myself .. Vince Panozzo, from Industry Skills Australia (ISA). Lyndal, ISA have been asked by Department of Employment and Workplace Relations (DEWR) to review TLI training products for the Heavy Vehicle sector. Lyndal, your name was given to me as an industry professional that may be interested in becoming a technical committee member, to ensure the reviewed training products address current and emerging industry needs. The project will start with the review of the five licencing units, followed by the drive units, skill set and qualifications. Lyndal, if you would like additional information, please give me a call. Trusting the above makes sense and I look forward to hearing from you. Regards Vince	Rework
30/09/2025	ISACNT	Heavy Vehicle Driver Training	Industry Association	Northern Territory	Email	Qualification					Good morning Vincent, I hope this message finds you well. My name is Dhiraj Simkhada, Workforce & Skills Officer at the Industry Skills Advisory Council Northern Territory (ISACNT). I'm reaching out to formally introduce myself and to let you know that my portfolio covers the Industry Skills Advisory (ISA). In this capacity, I would appreciate the opportunity to schedule an e-meeting with you at your convenience to discuss Skilling Heavy Vehicle Drivers and Licensing Update. Please feel free to share your availability or suggest a date and time that suits your schedule. To provide a brief introduction about ISACNT, we are not-for-profit organisation funded by the Northern Territory Government. We are dedicated to providing strategic advice and gathering intelligence on workforce development, training package design, skills shortages and workforce solutions across the Territory. We work collaboratively with all 19 industry sectors and the 10 national Jobs and Skills Councils to support training packages, Northern Territory Skilled Occupation Priority List (NTSOPL) and broader workforce initiatives. Additionally, we deliver school presentations to job seekers and students, highlighting career opportunities in the NT and we organise industry tours to help students connect with pathways aligned to their interests. I look forward to the opportunity to e-meet with you and welcome any questions you may have. Thank you and have a good day ahead.
30/10/2025	Hughes training group	Heavy Vehicle Driver Training	HV Industry	New South Wales	Email	Qualification	Qualifications	SS - Licensing/Regulatory Information	Qualification	Hi Andy, I had a comprehensive read through attached doc and will add below points to the next draft version of the licensing units, plus Andy I would like you to talk to your feedback at our 13 Nov meeting. Key points, but not limited to: -maintaining efficient control of all vehicle functions -ongoing monitoring traffic and road conditions -managing vehicle operating condition and performance -effectively managing hazardous situations -meaningful LLN support .. Note: LLN levels are optional in units, however, LLN levels are compulsory in qualifications and skill sets -increase the number require demonstration "from at least one occasion to two or three?" -progressive licensing systems .. I'm guessing your meaning working up the licensing levels .. LR/MR/HR/HCMC? Andy, I'm sure there are others .. let's go with these and see what other TC members come up with. Regards Vince	Morning Vince, I've attached something I've been working on for a while. In summary, what I'm saying is that being a heavy vehicle driver trainer/assessor is hard. You need a whole lot of professional development to integrate all the required learning into your skillset. The licence to drive units form a basis for this, but there is so much more going on. Submission to Industry Skills Australia From: Andy Hughes, Senior Heavy Vehicle Trainer and Trainer of Trainers Date: 26 October 2025 Subject: Input – TLI Skilling Heavy Vehicle Drivers and Licensing Project Please find attached my practitioner input paper titled "Licence to Drive Heavy Vehicle Units of Competency – My Input." This submission offers a train-the-trainer perspective on the current situation, identifying how legacy, test-based structures constrain the development of real competence in a modern, safety-critical industry. It highlights opportunities for Industry Skills Australia to embed competency-based training and assessment principles, integrate ACSF-aligned LLN diagnostics, and harmonise assessment, trainer standards, and supervised practice nationally. These measures would strengthen workforce readiness, road-safety outcomes, and trainer professionalism across Australia. I appreciate ISA's leadership in this reform process and welcome any opportunity to contribute further as the project develops. Kind regards, Andy Hughes	Rework

10/03/2026	Austrroads	Heavy Vehicles	Regulator	National	Email					Hi Grant, Apologies for the delay responding – John's been away for the past week and I was waiting to check on this. There should be no problem with referencing the NHVDCF competencies because they are publicly available on the Austrroads website at: NHVDCF_Decision_RIS.pdf Having said that, for our training material we have made a few small tweaks to the wording in the competencies listed at that link so if you want to have a chat to clarify anything just let me know. I'd be happy to set up a call for that. Cheers Stella Austrroads From: Grant Power Sent: Monday, 2 March 2026 3:46 PM Hi Stella, ISA has undertaken a mapping process of our TLI Training Package Licence Units to the NHVDCF competencies. We are seeking approval from Austrroads to include the NHVDCF competencies/element information in the TLI Training Package CVIG (Companion Volume Implementation Guide). This will enable the NHVDCF requirements to be referenced by training and assessment service providers without needing to duplicate the detail within the endorsed units of competency. By ... 24/06/2026	Aust-Link Pty Ltd	Heavy Vehicle Driver Training								Good Afternoon Grant, Thank you for your time yesterday afternoon. All of the drive units look great however just a couple of queries: 1: As a provider for Victoria, we are required to have our vehicles 75% loaded for training and assessment and as stated in your units "a load minimum of 30% to 75% of allowable and load restraint equipment". Is this because other states allow 30% and up? 2: In section "Application" all of the drive units state " To achieve a licence candidates should complete the TLI Licence to ... vehicle and check with the state/territory driver licensing authority for eligibility, including licence tenure, driving experience and medical fitness requirements.
